2021 ALTURA COLLECTION BARBERA

Sonoma Mountain

BRIGHT FRUITS OF CASSIS AND BLACKBERRIES WITH HINTS OF SAGE

The 2021 Altura Barbera catches your attention with its beautiful dark purple color in the glass. The perfumed aromatics of plum, black currant, sage, anise, and a hint of oak abound. Flavors of fresh blackberries, black cherries, graphite, and savory herb are balanced with a vibrancy of beautiful chalky tannins and a long finish.

BODY: Chalky tannins with an elegant finish

WINEMAKING NOTES:

- Harvested later in the season to allow for better acid balance. Barbera is naturally higher in acid and needs more time on the vines to allow for some of the acid to be respired through the grape skins.
- The fruit from the vineyards was fermented separately with Clos yeast and F83 Yeast respectively. These strains were selected to help enhance berry fruit aromas and produce rich and rounded wines.
- Fermentation lasted two weeks, then wines were drained and pressed to tank where the heavy lees were settled, and wine was racked off the solids to barrels for aging.
- 20% new Francois Freres, World Cooperage, and Quintessence barrels were used, and the wine was aged for 20 months.

LABEL ART: Barbera is known to have a beautiful, deep purple color, yet has a surprising lightness on the palate. With its dark, rich colors and lighter splashes woven through, this piece by Maria Giannini was inspired by that contrast.

2021 TERRA COLLECTION CABERNET SAUVIGNON

Sonoma County – Norris Vineyard, Chalk Hill

JUICY RED AND BLACK FRUITS AND A HINT OF COCOA

The fruit comes from Norris Vineyard in the Chalk Hill AVA. A beautiful bright Cabernet Sauvignon nose jumps out of the glass with notes of huckleberries, cherries, vanilla, and caramel. The fruit carries through the palate and secondary flavors of cedar and cocoa come together on the dry finish.

BODY: Balanced acidity with refined structure

ACIDITY: Medium+

PALATE: Notes of juicy red and black fruits and a hint of cocoa
